Inspired by the modern designs of history and culture, the Micromix collection carries the magical atmosphere of the Mediterranean to living spaces. After the discovery of the first ceramic production in Egypt 26.000 BC, thousands of motifs that do not resemble each other continue to add excitement to life with the interpretation of the magnificent patterns and cultures. Mediterranean culture from Aspendos to Ephesus, from Olympia to Sicily, from Corsica to Alhambra, comes to life in these designs embellished with the brightness of the sun, the blue of the sea, the smell of history and the luster of flowers.

INSPIRATION

The original approach adopted by this new catalogue leads to a turning point in the way we address the market: design plays the leading role in an ever evolving experience, in which elegance and quality materials find a new form of expression in our collections.

A sleek catalogue, inspired by the cinema world, with references to scenes from the film 'Dogville' by Lars von Trier: pared-down, minimalist interiors in which the products - similarly to the protagonists of the film - are valorised and highlighted by a total absence of frills, the stand-out elements of a set devoid of decorative elements.
